

Change the sentences to the interrogative form.

1. He has got a brand new car.

2. They like to dance together every week.

3. I have a new style of life that I would recommend for you.

4. Ann does her homework in the morning.

5. Radiohead always plays some good music.

6. I eat everything that my family cooks.

7. Jane works with her bothers at the office.

8. The firefighter likes his dangerous job.

9. The shop closes at five p.m.

10. Socrates' ideas influence people of every country.

11. She loves her boyfriend very much.

12. Socialism plays a major role within society.

13. Everyone enjoys having a good party.

14. I study hard on the weekends to become a great professional.

15. They visit their grandmother very often.

Answers

1. Does he have got a brand new car?
2. Do they like to dance together every week?
3. Do I have a new style of life that I would recommend for you?
4. Does Ann do her homework in the morning?
5. Does Radiohead always play some good music?
6. Do I eat everything that my family cook?
7. Does Jane work with her brothers at the office?
8. Does the firefighter like his dangerous job?
9. Does the shop close at five p.m.?
10. Do Socrates' ideas influence people of every country?
11. Does she love her boyfriend very much?
12. Does Socialism play a major role within society?
13. Does everyone enjoy having a good party?
14. Do I study hard on the weekends to become a great professional?
15. Do they visit their grandmother very often?